

Adani Hazira Container Terminal

Natural Gateway to South Gujarat, Central India & North Maharashtra.

About Us

Adani Hazira Port Private Ltd is the developer and operator of a container terminal at Hazira, Surat, under a sub-concession agreement with Hazira Port Private Ltd (Joint Venture between Shell BV and Gaz De France).

Legacy

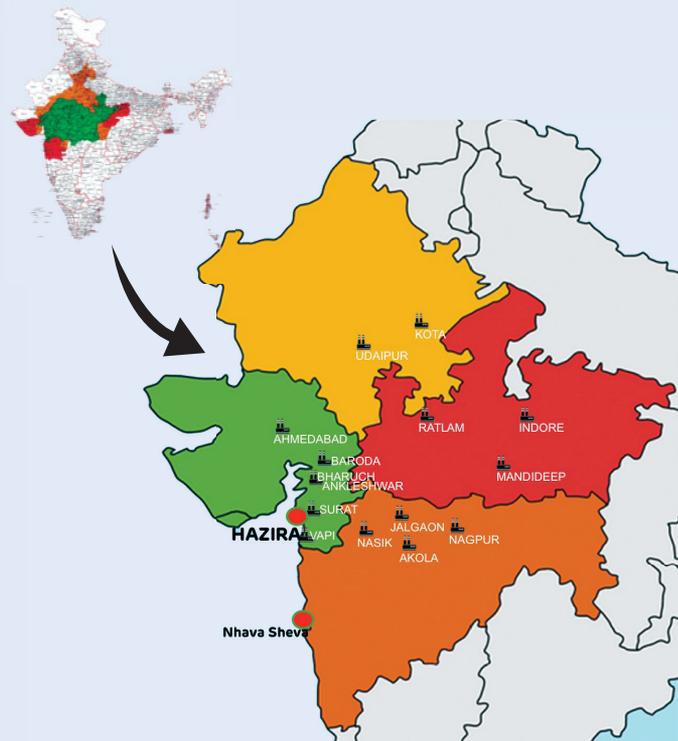

Adani Port and Special Economic Zone is the largest private port operator in India, Operating ports/terminals in Mundra, Dahej, Tuna, Hazira, Goa, Visakhapatnam and Abbot Point in Australia.

Location

Hazira is located in Surat, one of India's most industrialised cities and among the largest diamond and textile hubs in the world. The port, which is just 120 nautical miles north of Mumbai, is an ideal alternative to Nhava Sheva (JNPT).

Connectivity

The Container Terminal is connected with NH-6, which is a four-laned road, currently being expanded to a six-lane. The nearest rail head is 16 km from the container terminal. The port is in the process of establishing a dedicated railway siding, which will be connected to the Indian Railway network at Surat.
