CII Institute of Quality is organizing its National Competition on Low Cost Automation to support the Make-in-India campaign by enhancing the competitiveness of Indian Industry in the global market. With escalating manpower and rising production costs, Low Cost Automation (LCA) is a viable survival strategy for organizations all across the globe. Indian Industry needs to prepare itself and take adequate measures to face the stiff competition that exists in the global scenario and Low Cost Automation is one of the tools in the manufacturing sector that could help them face these challenges.

This competition catalyzes the widespread adoption of LCA practices across Indian industry through sharing of the best case studies.
